M'KINLEY'S FOES UNITE. MANIAC MOTHER'S

Platt, Clarkson and Manley Reach an Agreement to Fight Together.

Simultaneously in New York and Washington They Issue Statements That the Ohioan Cannot Win. Figures Given Out by the Ex-Governor's Managers, They Declare, Are Not Correct—Twenty Ohio Delegates, Says Mr. Platt, Are Ready to Break Away from Their Candidate.

The political sensation of the day is that the enemies of Mr, Mc-Kinley hav formed a combination to defeat him at St. Louis. Simultaneously yesterday statements were issued in New York and Washington. Platt, Clarkson and Manley all come out and say that they have assurances that the opposition to McKinley will unite to beat him. This means that they, and Quay also, have given one another assurances that they will hang together. The remarkable unanimity with which they show that McKinley has not near enough delegates is a public defiance of Mark Hanna's claims.

Thomas C. Platt-Morton's Political Agent. ore they are out of the woods. If they are to ore they are out of the woods, If they are to be believed the man from Oblo has already secured enough delegates to nominate him at St. Louis, and the rest of the proceedings are of no interest to them. A glance at the actual state of affairs shows that the contest for the Republican nomination is still an open one, with the chances in favor of one of Mr. McKinley's opponents.

It is no secret either that Mr. Hanna is in sore trouble at home. At least twenty of the Ohio delegates are opposed to McKinley's nomination, and propose to break loose from him at the first opportunity. The Ohio man has not hesitated to invade the territory of his opponents, and now that his own province is in revolt. It will be wise for him to look after his home fences. With twenty of his delegates ready to desert, at the earliest pretext, the Ohio delegation will require close attention for the next six weeks.

General James S. Clarkson, Allison's Political Agent. McKinley will fall from eighty to one hundred votes short of enough to nominate at the start, and the field will represent from 525 to 550 votes. By the field I mean Allison, Reed, Quny, Bradley, Morton and Cullom, and such other available men as Harrison, Lincoln, Fornker, Hobert, Davis and General Tracy, of New York

In one respect Harrison would give the earliest certainty of any one who could be nominated, for the day he should be nominated the country would know exactly what his policy as President would be on tariff, and exactly what it would be on finance, and this would quickly bring confidence and good times behind it.

Joseph H. Manley, Reed's Political Agent. Preferences and even instructions in the past have not uniformly governed the delegates, because the conditions under which they were passed did not exist at the time the delegates were called upon to discharge the duties intensted to them. The situation to-day is for Mr. Reed, 162; for ex-Governor McKinley, 275; for all other candidates, 217; con-

For his guidance in the management of police affairs and for information that will be of invaluable assistance in the enforcement of the law, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the Police Board set out yesterday afternoon, to make an analytical study of how the Raines Liquor Tax law is enforced in this city on Sunday.

No attempt was made to obtain evidence against saloon keepers, who were violating the law or to detect carelessness on the part of the members of the force. Although instances of both were found, there was no cause fo rinsomnia among captains last night. The complete list of "fake" hotels that sold no end of beer, with one crust of bread, and of those that did not even go through the formality of selling the bread, was destroyed by Mr. Roosevelt at the com-pletion of his trip.
